DIRECTORY RESTORATION/PRESERVATION PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

Although there are many qualified architects, contractors, and building trade craftsmen in the Washington metropolitan area, it is difficult to identify those with experience in the restoration of older buildings, a very specialized field. To assist you in locating qualified professionals, the staff of the Historic Preservation Commission has collected the names of selected area architects, contractors, and craftsmen. Some of the firms listed responded to a Historic Preservation Commission questionnaire requesting information on their services; there is additional material on those firms in our files. You are welcome to make an appointment to review these files.

This list is not intended to be all-inclusive or to be viewed as an endorsement by the Historic Preservation Commission of the professionals included in it. Since the Commission cannot vouch for the quality of their work, we urge you to visit completed projects and to talk with the property owners about their experience with a particular firm or individual. We also urge you to ask for certification of appropriate licenses and bonding.

The Commission welcomes your suggestions regarding individuals or firms that should be added to or deleted from the list. An index to the list appears below:
